

Sharing Member News on Facebook and Twitter: Increasing Theatre West presence online

You are an artist. You work hard and when you have artistic wins to crow about – Theatre West wants to help share those wins with the world!

Meaning, whenever you book something, are going to be on TV, are in a play, publish a play, stage manage a play, have a new Webisode coming out, did a voiceover job, commercial etc, etc. – Do not hesitate to let Theatre West know.

We can post your good news on the Theatre West Facebook page and Twitter account for all to see.

Sharing your good news will not only promote you as an artist but also brings greater attention to the high level of working artists we have here at Theatre West.

That said, to have your artistic news posted on our social media sites please do the following:

- Send an email to: staff@theatrewest.org
- Subject Line: FOR FACEBOOK
- Give a short description of the good news
- Include any links you'd like us to use
- And if there is a photo, it needs to be in JPG format. High quality images get the most attention, nothing blurry please.

Thank you, Corinne

Additionally, if you have a TWITTER account - shoot me an email with your twitter handle so that Theatre West can follow you. Or send a Direct Message via twitter to @TheatreWest
